Election Saturday on Seven Amendments

INTEREST IS SMALL IN ALL PROPOSALS

Light Vote Anticipated With Poll Tax Decline Here

JUDGES ARE NAMED

News Will Post Returns of Vote in Randall County

Seven constitutional amendments will be submitted to the voters of Texas next Saturday in a special election. It is estimated that probably not more than 600,000 votes will be cast in this election owing to the small poll tax payments this year, and the further fact that little interest has been developed through the discussion of the amendments.

The ballot is being printed on another page of this edition in order that the voters may study its wording before going to the polls.

Amendment No. 1 calls for an old age pension, and has probably caused so much discussion as any of the amendments.

No. 2 provides for commitment of insane persons to the hospital for treatment without jury trial.

No. 3 is the prohibition amendment, and is probably the most discussed proposal of any of the seven.

No. 4 would authorize the legislature to submit constitutional amendments to the voters in special sessions. The legislature is now limited to constitutional amendments in the regular session every two years.

No. 5 would extend to courts the power of probation.

No. 6 would abolish the fee system in counties having a population of 20,000 or more, and make

Confederate Veterans Plan For Big Gathering

The reunion of Confederate veterans at Amarillo next month is being watched by local men who hope ot take part in this gathering.

Friends of the veterans in Randall county are planning escorts for those who wish to attend. Upon investigation it has been found there are three veterans living in Canyon, and if there are others, their names are desired so that plans may be made for them.

The three veterans and their wives are:

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pipkin.
Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Heller.
Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Steen.

Mr. Pipkin preserved his parole which was issued at the close of the war, May 3, 1865. The parole was signed by General Joseph E. Johnston of the Confederacy and Major General W. T. Sherman of the Union Army.

The parole is framed and has been hanging in the Museum, but Mr. Pipkin has withdrawn it to take to the reunion at Amarillo.

Superintendents of Parks to Gather at Palo Duro, Aug. 31

About 100 park superintendents, assistants and foremen will gather at the Palo Duro State Park on August 31st, and September 1st, announced D. E. Colp, chairman of the Texas State Parks Board, while here Saturday.

The business session of the superintendents will be held on Saturday, and Sunday will be devoted to the inspection of the Palo Duro.

Mr. Colp stated that he was insisting that all superintendents visit the Palo Duro, which is the second largest park in the state.

POST OFFICE SITE TO BE CHOSEN ON SEPTEMBER 9

Lot Owners Asked To File Bids For Location

BLANKS AT P. O.

Final Selection To Be Made by Postoffice Department

Bids will be received in Canyon on September 9th for the site of the new postoffice building. The government has placed an advertisement with The News for Aug. 29th and Sept. 5th calling for these bids.

Postmaster Guy Harp received the necessary blanks Monday upon which property owners may make their bids for the location.

The government is requiring land approximately 120 by 170 feet, which will approximate a quarter city block. Corner lots are preferable, but the government will accept inside lots if the amount of land equals approximately 145 by 170 feet. The blocks in Canyon are only 140 feet in depth, which means that the government will require more frontage than the 120 feet for a corner, or 145 feet for an inside location.

Blanks and full instructions for making bids may be secured from Postmaster Guy Harp. All citizens who have lots available may file their bids for the location.

So far as known the government seldom, if ever, selects a site upon the public sqpare, if a suitable one may be found within easy access of the main business section. While most business men will favor a location upon the square, the government seldom makes a selection of such a site, preferring to be away from the public square a half or a full block. The price asked for land will have considerable bearing upon the final selection of the site by the government.

The quick action of the government in asking for bids for the site has been very pleasing to those who have worked for the post office building for Canyon. The fact that the appropriation is ready, having been passed by congress last week, indicates that a contract for the building will follow within a very short time.

Prohibitionists Hold Final Rally Tuesday

Urge Voters to Cast Vote Saturday in Election

Four speakers divided time Tuesday night for the final prohibition rally in Randall county, addressing a good sized crowd on the court house lawn. W. A. Warren, county chairman, was in charge of the program. The Buffalo Band played before the speaking.

A saloon on every corner of every town in Texas will be the result of repeal, was the statement of Walter M. Vainort of Dallas, who devoted considerable time to the legal phase of the constitutional amendment. "If this constitutional amendment is adopted, you will repeal every liquor law on the statute books of Texas under the wording of this amendment," stated the speaker. "They can come right into Canyon, open up, and you cannot prosecute them," continued the speaker. He stated that every constitutional lawyer in Texas agreed with this statement. The amendment was written by a smart liquor lawyer who sought to open wide the saloons in Texas.

Mr. Vainort repudiated the statements of the liquor crowd that repeal would pay the state out of debt. Before prohibition, the largest amount annually ever collected in liquor tax was $821,000, according to a statement from the comptroller, and during the last year before prohibition the amount dropped to $500,000. The license fees on saloons is the only tax that may be collected.

Edgar P. Haney of Dallas made an appeal to those friends of prohibition to become active this week and get out the vote. "If the drys do not go to the polls the wets will win and whiskey will be for sale in every town in Texas, and there is nothing you can do about it," stated the speaker.

Rev. H. D. Tucker of Pampa, organizer of young people in this district, urged those who cannot vote to talk to their friends this week, and urged them to go to the polls. "National repeal has failed," stated the speaker. "The wets have lied to us. They said to give them beer and they would not ask for hard liquor. Now they

While in the summer camp of instruction at Camp Hulen, Company F, local National Guard unit under the command of Captain William E. Lockhart, captured signal honors in rifle marksmanship.

Three of the ten men on the 142nd Infantry Regimental Team were furnished by Company F. The 142nd Infantry team won the coveted Hulen Trophy for the best rifle team in the Texas National Guard by firing the highest team score that has ever been made in Hulen Trophy competition.

Lieutenant William T. Simmons of Company F fired the highest individual score for the Regimental Team and was the second highest individual scorer in the 36th Division, losing first place by four points.

First Sergeant Alfred R. Donnell and Sergeant Elias M. Myers were the other two members of Company F to make the team. They tied for seventh place on the team, but were only eleven points lower than Lt. Simmons.

Lt. Simmons will report at Camp Perry, Ohio, on Sept. 1, for the National Rifle Matches.

The company returned home Sunday morning, highly pleased with the trip. It was the first time in three years that perfect weather continued throughout the encampment, states Captain Lockhart. Three officers and 55 men constituted the enrollment of Company F.

CONRAD WIRTH PRAISES PALO DURO IN VISIT

Land Must Be Cleared of Debts Or Work Be Lessened

SHOW DOWN COMES

Plans Adopted For Immediate Work at Park

A show-down on the Palo Duro Canyon State Park was more or less the object of a visit Thursday, Friday and Saturday of representatives of the National Park Service from Washington, Oklahoma City and Austin, together with D. E. Colp, and members of the local Advisory Committee, and other citizens of this section.

Conrad Wirth, head of the National Park Service, was here for his first visit to the Palo Duro. His assistant, Herbert Evison, was here again for the third visit. Herbert Maier, regional director, came from Oklahoma City for another inspection.

"The Palo Duro is prettier than any pictures I have seen of it," stated Mr. Wirth. "I am not at all disappointed in the Palo Duro, but certain things must take place before the National Park Service will feel free to continue its development."

In the first place, Mr. Wirth made it clear that the Palo Duro did not meet the requirements of a national park. Four inspectors have rejected it as a national park. The Big Bend will be the only national park in Texas. But the Palo Duro has great possibilities as a regional park.

In the second place, the debts against the land must be paid by the state of Texas before the National Park Service will consider much of a program of development at the Palo Duro.

The State of Texas has only 120 acres plus the 100 foot right-of-way for the road through the land which is free of all liens. Upon

Expect Centennial Fund Decision in Very Short Time

With the final apportionment of federal funds by the commission at Washington Saturday, the State Historical Committee will probably be in position to announce its recommendation for the division of the Texas fund during the coming week.

Application was made by officers of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society for funds to mark all historical spots in Northwest Texas. In addition application was filed for new display cabinets for the present building, together with an addition to the museum if funds were available. The officers in presenting the request at Austin several weeks ago were accorded a most cordial hearing.

Two members of the historical committee threatened to resign when the Centennial Commission awarded $250,000 of its funds to Fort Worth. In making the federal award, this amount of money was granted to Fort Worth provided that city would return the state funds. This leaves the $550,000 fund intact for marking historic spots in Texas, and the federal commission, through Vice President Garner added $200,000 federal funds for this work.

Tax Rate Set For County Saturday—Budget is Adopted

The Commissioners Court set the county tax rate Saturday after adopting the budget as made by County Judge Burney Slack.

The county tax rate will be 88 cents for the coming year. The state rate was recently set at 62 cents. The total of the two is 11 cents under the rate of last year.

PANHANDLE MEMBER PRESS ASSOCIATION

It is easy to sit on the side line and criticize, but we believe that the relief situation has been as nearly completely bungled as any of the national problems. Relief offices were closed over Texas last week with absolutely no provision for immediate future relief or work. Several weeks ago The News carried on an extensive correspondence with the Texas Relief Commission trying to show the members that Northwest Texas was still in a bad way with a continued drouth and should not be treated like the remainder of the state where rains had fallen and work was beginning to open up for the men. Nearly 200 heads of families in Randall county have been without work relief for three weeks, and none is in prospect for several weeks to come. A small army is employed in Austin and in traveling jobs all over the state, every one of these persons drawing good salaries while the poor devils out in these little country sections have been forced to live on practically nothing. WPA is not ready to go, and may be held up for weeks to come, while the little petty officials scattered around over the state are trying to find out what it is all about. There may have been waste in many counties had the government continued to send relief money directly into the counties, as the plan started, but we doubt very much whether the waste could possibly have reached the gigantic proportions that it has now assumed. We are making this criticism after having been very closely connected with the relief movement right from the start, and having had a chance to study it first hand.

Prices were secured on a number of locations in Canyon before the postal inspector made his visit here. Now that the postoffice building has been secured, some seem constrained to raise their price. Some who believe they have the location cinched are certain to be disappointed. The postal department does not intend to be skinned in any town by property owners raising their prices. It's a funny thing but the government seldom selects the site that people think it will. The government is not particular in building up any section of any town, and feels that it has a business to which the people must come. Therefore, if you have to walk a block or so away from the public square after your mail when the new postoffice is selected, you must keep in mind that property values close in on available sites suddenly went up in value after congress passed the bill for the new building. The inspector has a list of all the prices which were quoted before the building was possible; those who want to sell must stay with the original prices.

Probably no two other men could have been killed whose loss was felt so keenly in every section of the globe as Will Rogers and Wiley Post. Both names are household words in this section, but their reputations were not confined to the United States, or even the English speaking nations. The world was their playhouse; the funny little characters moving on the stage called men and women, were especially interesting to Will Rogers, who joked with these characters, kidded them when they were peeved or unduly excited; constrained them when they showed temper; laughed with them and laughed at them, but still remained their friend. While of altogether different temperament, Post has done as much or more for aviation than any living man. Both will be sadly missed.

The Texas Centennial commission will spend $5,000 in advertising in Texas. This amount was no doubt set aside to appease the wrath of those newspapers who have so bitterly criticised the actions of the commission. While this amount will not buy much space in all of the newspapers of Texas, every publication should now forget its peeve against the Centennial and strive to make next year the biggest Texas has ever had. Advertising the Centennial is advertising Texas, not just Dallas alone. While we have always been of the opinion that the scatter celebration idea was poor and would not work out, it is now the policy and should be enthusiastically supported.

The President's Social Security bill has been passed and signed. Without an opportunity for carefull study, no one is able to pass judgment on the measure. We are promised that it has been carefully worked out as to job insurance, old age pensions and other social reforms. The nation will welcome such a bill. The depression is still upon us, and no one wishes to see such a tragedy repeated in this nation. The social security bill aims to make the repetition of conditions of the past four years impossible, just as the Federal Reserve system was devised to make panics impossible.

Feed is going to be cheap this year. This is grateful news to those in the drouth section who are faced with the possibilities of buying most of their feed again this year. The prices being quoted now indicate that the prices will be below cost of production. The slaughter of such a large number of cattle last year by the government will make the feed supply abundant this year, due to the smaller section in the drouth territory. But those counties deprived of rain again this year would rather raise a big crop at low prices than to be forced again to buy feed even at the prevailing bargain prices.

Vote Saturday in the special election. At best, not fifty percent of the qualified voters of Texas will take the trouble to go to the polls in this election. Submitting constitutional amendments in large numbers every two years is not a good thing for the state, especially when those amendments are unnecessary and uncalled for. But since they are submitted, those who have a vote should exercise the privilege. It becomes more and more evident that practically all, if not all of the amendments will be defeated, as citizens study these amendments.

Hoover asks Roosevelt to explain the Democratic program. Now wouldn't he like to know? The silence of the President during the past months has ired the Republicans. As head of his party, Hoover feels constrained to start something against the Democrats, but is unable to locate the vital points until the President starts explaining his program. In his swing across the nation this fall the President will probably give the Republicans something to talk about and something to think about.

"Just when you get the town built, then you have to die," were the words of a college professor in advising young men to go to an old town which was completely established, rather than be the builder of a new town. Those who have fought the battles of the new town will appreciate those words. Just when everything is going smoothly in this town building process, along comes something to dump the apple cart, and everything has to be started again. Yes, but it is a lot of fun.

Canyon citizens feel grateful to Congressman Marvin Jones and Senator Tom Connally for the interest shown in getting the appropriation for a new postoffice building for this city. The records of the local office placed the needs of Canyon at the head of the list in this section, but it was the interest of these two men who made possible the final action.

Huey will be a candidate for president on the Democratic ticket, and failing to defeat Roosevelt for the nomination will be a candidate as an independent. Let's see, Jim Ferguson tried that in Texas and could not even corral his most loyal supporters.

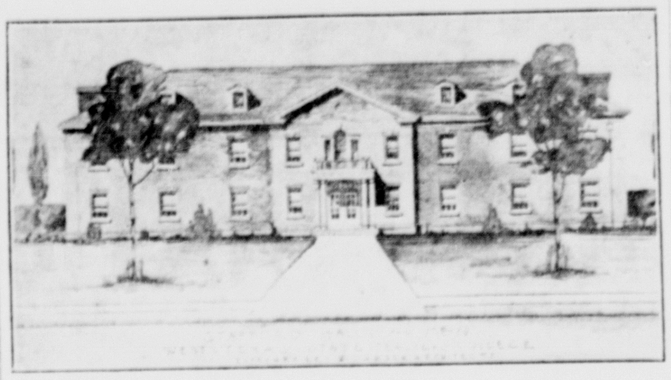
Furnishing to be Modern



The architects drawing (above) of Stafford Hall, new dormitory for boys of W. T. shows it to be an attractive building on the exterior. Pres. J. A. Hill and Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Meyer, managers, promise an equally beautiful exterior. Forty boys may be accomodated in the hall.

Furniture Is Being Chosen For Dormitory

Pres. J. A. Hill, Travis Shaw, Mrs. Agnes Smith, and D. F. Rittenberry met last week and planned the furnishings for Stafford Hall, the new dormitory for boys on the campus of the College.

They dream of throw rugs and draperies for the bedrooms because boys, unlike girls, are not in the habit of carrying such things about with them.

The desks in the study alcoves are to be long and partitioned in the center.

Smoke stands, table lamps, and upholstered furniture will characterize the social room.

Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Meyer are to select the furniture for their suite of rooms. The committee has suggested that Mrs. Meyer's judgment be taken in choosing the pictures for the social room.

Miss Vera Crawford of Cousins Hall is listing the needed cooking vessels and dishes for the kitchen and dining room. A cooling system and a frigidaire are notable furnishings of the kitchen.

When asked about the social life at the hall, Dr. Meyer answered, "It is the intention of the sponsors to give these boys in Stafford Hall an opportunity for associational living and this implies more than the lighter aspects of social life, it implies cooperation in more serious work as well as in play life. It is felt that a reasonable program for college men will insure greater outcomes to them during the time they spend in college."

It has about gotten so that experience is the only thing we can't get on the installment plan.

THE EYES OF YOUTH

Thoughts of youth are long-long thoughts, and the eyes of youth are humanity's most priceless possession. Since eighty percent of all knowledge is received through the eyes, the child must necessarily rely upon his accuracy of seeing for his success in school, as well as in later life.

A child, however, has no standard for determining the condition of his eyes. Parents and public educators should be brought to realize that approximately one child in every five has defective eyes. Such condition should have immediate attention.

Defective eyes among school children adds to the burden of the taxpayer, tend to lower educational standards, increases indifference to study among pupils, causing thousands of young people to leave school poorly equipped for any career, social or business.

A child should not enter school work until he has been thoroughly examined by a competent Optometrist.

DEFECTIVE EYES

A Serious Handicap To a Child in School

Next month school children begin to use their eyes for close, concentrated vision, and it is the duty of parents to be sure that their eyes are in normal condition before school starts.

About eighty per cent of the education of the child during the first twelve years is obtained through the use of the eyes.

This being true, it is impossible to overestimate the importance of having the eyes working properly.

In order to be able to study and concentrate properly it is necessary that the child's eyes be absolutely comfortable. If the eyes are defective you will have an idle, inattentive and seemingly lazy, dull child.

Thousands of boys and girls quit school early because of the handicap of defective eyes.

Remember, you parents who wish to have your boy or girl keep up with their school work THEY MUST HAVE NORMAL EYES IN ORDER TO ENABLE THEM TO COPE WITH THE NORMAL DEMANDS OF SCHOOL WORK.

In many cases glasses are an absolute necessity; however, oftimes when glasses are worn in childhood many defects are corrected, thereby making it unnecessary to wear them in later years.

We have special equipment for a thorough examination of children's eyes.

And if glasses are required we prepare them under our personal supervision, to meet the exact requirements.

EVERY CHILD'S EYES SHOULD BE CAREFULLY TESTED AND EXAMINED BEFORE ENTERING SCHOOL.

Report On NATURAL DYES

By Mrs. D. D. Vaughn

"Natural dyes are adapted to Home Handicraft" says Miss Furry of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The different natural dyes come from berries, nuts, flowers, vegetables and bark of trees. The color of the dye depends upon the product from which you take it.

You should use a mordant, a chemical with all of the dyes to give them fastness. There are different compounds of mordant which are iron, chromium, aluminum, tin, or copper. Chromium and aluminum are the most commonly used. Each compound gives a different shade to the dyes.

For all dyes you should use 4½ gallons of water to one pound of material.

Formulas for green pecans and green walnuts: All nuts must be green to give the natural color of the nut. 3-4 peck of green pecan hulls to one pound of wool. 1 peck of green black walnut hulls to one pound of wool, use 4½ gallons of soft water to the pound of material. Soak the nuts over night, then boil the next morning until you have a concentrated lye liquor. Then strain and add the mordant. The dye is then ready for use, and can be used the second time if there is enough dye to cover the material.

"Vegetable purees should be on every pantry shelf," states Mrs. W. E. Bennett, farm food supply demonstrator of the Park Home Demonstration club. "When my grandchildren come I never have to study about their food as I have strained spinach, greens, carrots, and peas in my pantry."

MRS. GEORGE NANCE ENTERTAINS

Mrs. George Nance entertained with a lovely summer party at her home Thursday afternoon of last week. Roses and dahlias were arranged in the rooms where the tables were placed for the games.

Who Do You Want to Drink It?

Recently a minister and a business man were talking and the latter said, "Well, I think we must let liquor stay for a while longer, and it will bring its own doom, and then the people will rise up and vote it out again."

He was asked, "Well, brother, who is to drink it? Are you going to drink it?" He said, "No, you know I am a teetotaller, and would never touch the dirty stuff."

"Well then, have you a wife who is going to drink it?"

"Of course not; she hates it too."

"Well, you have a son and a daughter who will drink it?"

"Indeed I have not. It would be the last thing I would want my child to do."

"Well, then do you want your employees to drink it?"

"Well, do you want the man who owes you an account to take the money that rightfully belongs to you and spend it for liquor?"

"No, and I would not give credit to that man any longer if he did."

"Well, would you like for the engineer on the train which you ride to drink it?"

"Of course not. I would never ride on a train if I knew the engineer would be allowed to touch a drop."

"Well, then, would you like to meet a drunk man driving his car on the highway?"

"I would want to go in the other direction."

"Well, let's see, who would you like to see drink it?"

He answered, "Well, I admit it is so bad I do not want anyone to drink it. I WILL STOP IT RIGHT NOW AND VOTE AGAINST IT AND NOT WAIT ANY LONGER. I have seen enough of its evil."

Amarillo Men Here Monday Working In Interest of Fair

Bill Beechler, one of the Vice-Presidents of the Tri-State Fair and good will ambassador from Amarillo, and Mason King of The Amarillo News-Globe, another Tri-State Fair "evangelist" were here Monday.

They brought a special invitation to Canyon to attend the Tri-State Fair, September 14-21, which this year will be the largest exposition in Texas.

"Cash prizes for the largest delegations visiting the exposition with bands have been increased this year," said Mr. Beechler. "On one day last year there were 12 delegations and nine bands at the fair."

Beechler believes there will be more entries and larger crowds this year. "There will be no fair at Dallas this year and the Tri-State Exposition will be about the only attraction of its kind this fall."

Mason King, who is director of racing, called attention to the opening date of the fall meet.

"With more, better entries, and larger purses, the Tri-State Fair racing meet will open one day earlier—Friday, September 13," he said. "Daily races with legalized wagering have become the major attraction at the fair. Thousands of turf fans from all over the Southwest pack into the grandstand daily to see the sport of kings."

"Of course, there will be a wide variety of other entertainment," he continued. "The largest midway attraction in the United States will be there, direct from an engagement in Detroit."

Both visitors declared there will be full entries in every department.

Wilbur C. Hawk again this year heads the fair association, which is guaranteeing payment in full of more than $15,000 in cash premiums.

O. L. "Ted" Taylor, secretary-manager, has reported heavy demand for catalogs and concession space.

Museum Receives Railroad Booklet

Contains Panhandle Map of Rare Historical Interest

"Agricultural Resources in the Pan Handle of Texas," a booklet published by the Fort Worth and Denver railroad in 1890 boosting West Texas, was given Pioneer Hall by G. W. Hare of Cottle county, recently.

It was written by the Hon. James Wilson of Iowa, who soon after was appointed United States Secretary of Agriculture by Pres. McKinley. He kept the position for eighteen years, the record term for any cabinet officer.

Contains Historical Map

The book contains a map of the Panhandle of unusual historical value. Prof. L. F. Sheffy plans to publish the map, along with a modern map of the Fort Worth & Denver Line, in the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Review.

The map shows a noticable blank of towns south of the line of the railroad. There are a few mistakes in it. For instance, the Palo Duro Canyon runs clear across Deaf Smith County. It could be inferred from the type size that the most important centers would be Tascosa, Washburn, and Clarendon. The text fully bears out the inference.

Washburn Is Center

It is evident from reading the text that the Railroad Company intended to make the railroad center at Washburn. In Hall County it was taken as a matter of course that Salisbury would be the county seat and principal town.

There is a little town called Farwell near Texline. On a modern map the old town has disappeared and there is another town of the same name about 100 miles straight south of the old one.

The book says of West Texas, "It is destined to become the home of a healthy, hardy race of people. The nights are always cool, and the summers are thus more endurable here than in the Northern States, while the winters, on the other hand, on account of its southern latitude, are mild, and there is no month of the winter in which the farmer may not follow his avocation without hindrance.

"Everybody seems conscious that the country will develop rapidly and values enhance as rapidly, and the hope of gain quickens the gait of the people."

College Tourists On Return Trip

Chuck Wagon Campers Two Days Ahead of Schedule

W. T.'s traveling college has speeded up somewhere along the way, and are two days in advance of their schedule, according to Dick Smith who wrote last week that they had Spent Aug. 11 in Santa Monica, Calif., and the itinerary gives their stay for bathing and sight seeing in Santa Monica to be on Tuesday, Aug. 13.

Miss Grace Weigmann, Higgins, who is a member of the tour, writes that they think that every day brings more beautiful and wondrous sights than the day before. The redwood forests along the California highways caused the plainsmen to search for words to describe the beauty, writes Miss Wiegman, as she says, "along the curving highway, we saw the sun shining through the open spaces in the trees. They were the tallest trees in the world, and when I put my head back to see their tops, my mouth, in spite of all of my rearing and training, fell wide open."

Miss Weigman said that they had been forced to wear wraps during the cool evenings and mornings, as they traveled down the Pacific coast. Sometimes at night the group built bonfires and sat around them, telling stories and singing college songs.

If the "Chuck Wagon College," as the tourists have been termed by western newspapers, does not spend more time than has been scheduled it will arrive in Canyon on Aug. 22 instead of the 24th, as their itinerary announces. They expect to arrive in Canyon in time that the students might take the final examinations on Aug. 24th.

Security

STILL AWAITS THE SAVER

Repeated economic crises have not changed the primary rule that financial security is always attained through thrift, and the consistent saving of money. No other sure way has been found. The conservative, substantial citizen of means invariably is first of all a saver of money—after that he may employ many methods of acquiring a fortune, but he starts his career as a saver!

To protect your motor, use Germ Processed Oil, which has 2 to 4 times greater film strength and is less affected by extreme motor heat!

YOUR MOTOR runs lots hotter in Summer. That's why you must have oil that maintains high film strength under extreme temperatures to get safe lubrication. Otherwise, the lubricating film ruptures and the bearings and cylinders suffer damaging wear.

Plain mineral oils have little film strength and oils over-refined by new cleansing methods have even less. As motor heat goes up, these oils rapidly lose film strength.

You'll get better motor protection with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil. Timken machine tests prove that it has 2 to 4 times greater film strength than any plain mineral oil and that heat above 225° does not lessen this advantage.

More proof—supervised road tests were made in identical cars fitted with the new alloy metal bearings used in many 1935 cars. The bearings lubricated with a high-quality plain mineral oil showed 45% more wear than those lubricated with Conoco Germ Processed, the first alloyed oil.

You'll be certain your motor is safely lubricated even at high temperatures if you say "O. K.—Drain" and fill with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil—the oil with the "Hidden Quart" that stays up in your motor and never drains away.

Park Visited

the remainder of the land there is a debt of $377,586.25.

Mr. Wirth stated that there was no park of only 120 acres in the United States upon which so much work had been done as in the Palo Duro Park.

Mr. Wirth stated positively that only one company will remain at the Palo Duro through the next period, starting October 1st. He was leaving the one company at the Park hoping that the state would pay off the debt, so that additional companies could be added next spring. Asked if the one company would be withdrawn in the spring if the legislature did not clear the title of the land, Mr. Wirth would not state. He did not wish to make a threat against possible future developments of the Palo Duro.

Headed by Dr. Blackwell, a party of three government men has made an inspection of the Palo Duro for the past three weeks under the marginal land act. An appropriation has been made for Texas, but not sufficient to buy all of the land which the Park Service would like to acquire. Dr. Blackwell stated that his report would go to Washington in a few days, but no indication was given as to what his recommendations would be. A carefull inspection has been made of land adjoining the Park.

The debt against the 15,500 acres of land in the Park was discussed Thursday night at a meeting of citizens in Amarillo. The Chambers of Commerce of Amarillo and Canyon will take the matter up when the special session of the legislature convenes.

Those attending a dinner Thursday night were: Mr. Wirth, Herbert Evison of Washington; Herbert Maier of Oklahoma City; D. E. Colp and George Nason of Austin; Francis Gott, inspector of this district; Dr. Blackwell, Raymond Higgins and J. A. Brinson, of the marginal land division; Paul Russell of the wild life division; Louis J. Bryan, Bob Finney, Jimmie Carseta from the Palo Duro Park; Clyde Warwick, and Judge C. W. Rumble of Hereford, of the Advisory Committee; Clarence Thompson of Canyon; J. O. Guleke, Wilbur Hawk, Gene Howe, Floyd Studer, Fred Post, Carl Hinton, E. W. Hardin, F. A. Emory, all of Amarillo.

While here a number of questions were settled regarding the immediate program of construction at the park. The plans for the entrance were approved, and it was definitely decided that only rock cabins would be constructed in the future.

"While most pepole look upon parks only as a recreational center," stated Mr. Wirth, "we set them aside for the study of nature. In this respect the Palo Duro rates extremely high. It contains a story not found in any other Park. Educational and scientific research will be carried on here for years to come," announced Mr. Wirth.

What Is Missing From Canyon Discussed at Rotary

The Fellowship Committee discussed "What Is Missing in Canyon," at the Rotary luncheon Tuesday. The discussion centered more around the cure of our ailment, and the advantages of the town. Bill Smith, chairman of the committee, was in charge of the program.

Mr. Smith recalled the criticism which had been called to the attention of the club two weeks ago by Joe Hill, who believed that Canyon was suffering from a case of constipation. Assuming the roll of a doctor, the speaker prescribed a medicine composed of the oil of fellowship, a powder of teamwork, together with a mixture of concentrated recreation. "Fellowship is not missing in Canyon, but it is something like our wheat crop, yet uncertain at times," stated Mr. Smith. Fellowship cements the members of the community together. Too many business men are too greatly wrapped up in their own affairs to take their place in the community.

Clyde Warwick discussed the need of concentrated recreation in the community. He pointed out the unfortunate division of interest in athletics in a small town like Canyon as between the high school and college. Too few citizens are taking a personal interest in either the Eagles or the Buffaloes. Very few are backing both teams in an enthusiastic manner. He recommended that all citizens get behind both athletic programs if they could, but in event they did not feel inclined to support both, that their influence should be thrown enthusiastically behind one or the other.

The building of Buffalo Courts through the efforts of the Canyon Athletic Club was reviving new interest in athletics among the citizens.

The Softball league was bringing out 60 to 80 business and professional men, getting them interested in play.

No town on the Plains had so many beautiful recreation spots as has Canyon, but too few citizens are taking advantage of them. The Tierra Blanca and Palo Duro are lined with ideal centers of recreation.

Mr. Warwick outlined the situation at the Palo Duro State Park as given to the local citizens Thursday, Friday and Saturday by officers of the National Park Service.

Visitors present were: O. J. Laas of Plainview; W. C. Vineyard, Jim Florey and Horace Griggs of Amarillo.

Recruit Companies To Take Place Of Vets at Palo Duro

Two new CCC companies are being recruited to replace the two companies of veterans who were removed from the Palo Duro State Park last week. These companies are designated as 2875 and 2876. Men are expected to start arriving today to fill the new companies.

Lieut. McMichael is in charge of 2875 and Lieut. Abney is in charge of 2875.

Four car loads of supplies were unloaded by the cadre sent here in charge of these two officers.
